City Voters Elect Three Democrats, Five Republicans

Three Democrats and five Republicans were elected by the voters of Greencastle in Tuesday's municipal balloting.

Incumbent Ray Fisher was re-elected mayor over his Republican opponent, Russell Clapp, by a margin of 131 votes. Fisher received 1,616 votes. Clapp got 1,485.

Democrat J. Frank Durham was elected city judge over Republican Lawrence Crump.

Democrat C. Clifford Frazier was elected clerk-treasurer over Republican Maynard Shonkwiler.

On the other hand, the Republican candidates captured the five council seats with Robert Jackson, Robert Poor, Chester Grimes, Robert Eppeheimer and Ernest Collins winning over Democrats Arvel Roach, Charles McCurry, Clark Norton, Richard Flynn and Ross Allee.

Frazier led the Democrat ticket with a total of 1,654 votes.

Jackson led the Republican ticket with 1,769 votes, closely followed by Poor with 1,700.

It is interesting to note that of 4,212 registered voters in the city, 3,101 cast ballots in the mayor's race. This is a good percentage for a city or off-year election.

11 Await Rescue

PEINE, Germany UPI — Eleven men trapped nearly 13 days in a flooded iron mine waited today for the completion of an escape shaft despite fears that it would cause the roof of their crumbling chamber to collapse and bury them.

Rescue workers inched a giant drill bit through the final 52 feet of earth toward the men in a delicate operation expected to be completed sometime Thursday.

GOP Elects 62 Mayors In Indiana

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — Indiana Republicans ended eight years of frustration in city elections Tuesday by capturing 62 mayor offices to 49 for the Democrats.

Although they lost the biggest prize—Indianapolis—the GOP broke loose from a deadly Democratic stranglehold on the state's most populous cities and made their greatest showing in these heavily unionized industrial areas.

The present mayoralty lineup is 1 Democratic, 37 Republican. Former State Police Supt. John J. Barton won Indianapolis for the Democrats with a 5,000-vote triumph over former state purchasing agent Clarence E. Drayer, while independent Sam Unger ran third.

But outside of a few die-hard Democratic cities in Lake County and other areas, the GOP swept a broad path through 17 of the 25 largest, taking such usually elusive places as South Bend, Muncie, Anderson and New Albany, and winning such others from the Democrats as Fort Wayne, Richmond, Lafayette, Elkhart, Marion, Michigan City, Mishawaka, Bloomington, LaPorte, Columbus and Vincennes.

Governor Welsh's hometown of Vincennes was among 41 cities which switched from Democratic to Republican. Former Democratic Gov. Henry F. Schrickler's hometown of Knox also shifted.

The election was an upheaval from start to finish. Despite the Democratic losses, which included such traditional cities as Jasper and Sullivan, that party made some surprising achievements including triumphs in West Lafayette and Rensselaer for the first time in history and Bedford where no Democrat had won since 1938.

All in all, 17 cities changed from Republican to Democratic. Thirty-seven incumbent mayors were pitched out into the street from the city halls where they now preside over local government. These included 27 Democrats, 7 Republicans and 3 independents. The three independents included two Democrats and one Republican who lost in last May's primaries, so the net loss of incumbents was 29 Democrats and 8 Republicans.

In 1951, the Republicans won 70 mayor seats to 33 for the Democrats. But the Democrats held sway in both 1955 and 1959 by an almost identical 2-to-1 margin. The current ratio is 71 (Continued on Page 2)

Over 40 Greencastle business and professional men kicked off their annual financial campaign for support of DePauw University this morning at a breakfast in the Memorial Student Union building.

Originated in 1957 when the local businessmen's group exceeded its goal of $14,750 by raising $15,541, the campaign has since chalked up five highly successful drives, including one year in which $18,000 was contributed to the university for current operating expenses.

Leaders and co-workers announced by Mr. Moss for this year's support program include Marion Wilson, Morris Boles, Ed Stevens, Ray Brush, Walter Ballard, Bob Matthews, Howard Williams, Dick Sunkel, Mace Aker, Perry Rush.

Six Removed From Bob Kennedy's Office

WASHINGTON UPI — Six members of the "Advance" youth organization, an alleged Communist front group, were dragged out of Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's office Tuesday when they refused to leave at closing time.

The members, one of them a girl, sought to present a petition to Kennedy asking that he halt proceedings before the Subversive Activities Control Board requiring "Advance" to register as a Communist front.

John Nolan, administrative assistant to Kennedy, finally accepted the petition from the group's spokesman, Marvin Markman, 24 of the Bronx, N. Y. The group previously had refused to hand over the petitions to anyone but Kennedy.

Monon Railroad Train Slams Into Stones On Tracks

The Daily Banner today is bringing attention to its subscribers as well as other residents of the community the fact that a Monon Railroad passenger train was nearly wrecked last Saturday which could have resulted in the loss of several lives and numerous injured.

One mile south of the Greencastle depot, Northbound No. 6, due at the local station at 1:13 p. m. ran into some slabs of Indiana limestone that had been piled on the tracks.

This section of the right-of-way is on a curve and Engineer Henry Royalty, of Bloomington, had no chance to stop after seeing the stones.

Royalty, a Monon employee for 40 years, said it was "a rough ride for a few moments."

Fortunately the diesel engine did not leave the rails. Had this happened, at 60 miles an hour, three baggage and mail cars and two coaches loaded with passengers would certainly have been in dire trouble.

Kenneth T. Bowman, of Lafayette, Security Officer for the Monon, informed The Banner that he personally had inspected two slabs of stone that had been placed on the tracks. One was 23 by 35 inches and the other was 18 by 22 inches. Both were eight inches thick.

Mr. Bowman termed the near-disaster as "malicious trespass" on the part of unthinking teenagers.

He stated that he had the complete cooperation of all school authorities in this area as well as law enforcement officers in the matter.

Mr. Bowman requested that parents advise their children on the seriousness of an incident of this nature, especially when human life is at stake.

Asked if it could have been the work of college students, Mr. Bowman said it was possible but he, and other investigators, believed it had been done by a slightly younger age person or group.

Dies In Cave-In

LAFAYETTE UPI — Sherman Idle, 56, a Lafayette construction worker, was killed Tuesday when a trench caved in at a construction project here. Another man suffered a fatal heart attack during rescue operations.

Police said Idle was buried in 7 to 8 feet of dirt while working in the trench near the Eli Lilly plant. He was dead when rescuers reached him.

Resume Fighting Viet Nam Reds

SAIGON, South Viet Nam UPI — Vietnamese marines who spearheaded the coup that deposed President Ngo Dinh Diem today began returning to the battlefronts of the war against the Communist guerrillas.

With the capital and the nation returning to normal after the street fighting Friday and Saturday that ended with Diem's death, the ruling military junta was assigning more units to their original duty stations in the Communist-infested jungles and rice paddies.

A curfew in force since the coup was reduced to three hours a day-between 2 a.m. and 5 a.m.—and the bright lights went on again in Saigon's crowded cabarets.

Twist and jazz music, banned as "decadent" by South Viet Nam's former first lady, Mme. Ngo Dinh Nhu, blared forth from the dance halls and bars, and Western dancing, also forbidden by Mme. Nhu, resumed. American GI's were welcomed back by Saigon bar hostesses.

The holiday mood was particularly noticeable around the Buddhist pagodas, which had been deserted because of Diem's crackdown on the Buddhist leaders last summer.

U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, whose disagreement with Diem's policy toward the Buddhist was no secret, was cheered and surrounded by Buddhists Tuesday at Saigon's main pagoda, the Xi Loi.

Russian Claim Rejected By U.S.

WASHINGTON UPI — The State Department today rejected as "completely unacceptable" Russia's claim that the Soviet Union has the right to lay down rules governing military travel to West Berlin.

The statement was issued shortly after Secretary of State Dean Rusk told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that Russia's latest blockade of the U. S. convoy on the Autobahn leading to Berlin "cannot be permitted."

Department spokesmen said the new blockade was "clearly the result of a Soviet initiative." They made no mention of the possibility of a "misunderstanding" as was done during an earlier blockade Oct. 10-11.

Urge Resumption Of Geneva Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. UPI — Thirty-nine nations today pressed for a quick resumption of the Geneva disarmament talks with emphasis on measures to ease East-West tension.

Neither the United States nor Russia, nor any major Western or Communist country participating in the Geneva talks, sponsored the measure in the political committee. It calls upon the 17-nation conference to give "urgent and sustained attention to the study of the various collateral measures which... seem promising of early agreement."

Specifically mentioned were measures to reduce the risk of war by accident or by surprise attack, and measures intended to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons to countries which do not now have them.

Although the resolution requests a progress report from the Geneva conference at an early date and a final reporting by next Sept. 1, the 17-nation parley was expected to resume before January.

House Will Get College Aid Bill

WASHINGTON UPI — A compromise $1.2 billion "bricks and mortar" college aid construction bill appeared today to be headed toward relatively easy House approval.

The measure, expected to have a somewhat rougher time in the Senate, would authorize a three-year program of federal grants and loans for construction of college classrooms, libraries and laboratories.

As the college bill started through its last legislative obstacles, House-Senate conferees began work on the tougher problem of reconciling differences in vocational education aid bills.

The House passed a five-year bill quadrupling the present $57 million yearly aid payment for job training schools.

But the Senate provided a five-fold boost and also added the authority to extend the 1958 National Defense Education Act and increase its college student loan program and to carry on the politically popular "impacted areas" aid program for schools crowded by the children of federal workers and servicemen.

Berlin Blockade Lifted By Russ

BERLIN UPI — The Soviet Union today ended a 41-hour blockade in the face of Western Allied firmness and permitted a U.S. Army convoy to roll across Communist East Germany to West Berlin.

The convoy of 44 men in 12 vehicles, stalled Monday morning in a dispute over clearance procedures, was allowed through the Soviet checkpoint at the western end of the 110-mile access highway to Berlin at 2:14 a.m., 10:14 p.m., EST, Tuesday, and reached West Berlin five hours later.

The Soviets dropped their inspection demands in what was considered a backdown in the face of Western determination to maintain the right of free access to West Berlin. The West made it plain that it was united on the issue. British and French convoys were sent through to West Berlin Tuesday night to emphasize this, and like the Americans, their commanders refused to allow the inspection the Soviets demanded.

The Russians gave in to the British and French and a few hours later gave in to the Americans, too.

But there was no thought here that the Soviet harassment campaign that began last month was over. It was anticipated that the Soviets would again interfere with Western Allied traffic to Berlin at a time of their choosing, holding up convoys from periods ranging from hours to days.

CUTTIN' CORNERS

NEW YORK (UPI) — A New York bakery is making bread in the round.

The round, one-pound loaf is not a corner cutting device on costs, said Howard Hartman, president of the 85-year-old Duigan Brothers Bakers, Queens Village, N.Y. The bread is baked in cylindrical molds, so the customer actually gets more slices per pound, Hartman said.

The shape, he added, offers "unthought of opportunities for sandwich making with such round fillings as salami, bologna, cheese and even tomatoes which have never been cultivated in the square."

Long Suit Is Warning
To Take Tricks Quickly

By Alfred Sheinwold

There are times when you can sit tight and wait for your tricks to come to you, but there are also times when you must get your tricks or not at all. You can tell which time is which by looking for a long suit that may furnish discards.

East won the first trick with the ace of clubs and returned a trump. "Lead up to dummy's weakness," he murmured to himself to justify his lazy play. East hadn't seen the significance of dummy's long diamond suit, but he wasn't long left in ignorance. South drew two rounds of trumps and led diamonds until East took the ace.

There was no way to stop South from discarding two hearts on dummy's diamonds. East could get only his three aces, and South made his game.

MUST START EARLY

East should see the diamond danger immediately. He can expect to take tricks with his three aces but needs another trick to defeat the contract. Conceivably West has a trump trick, but it is far more likely that the best defense is to try for two heart tricks instead of only one.

After winning the first trick with the ace of clubs, East should lead out the ace of hearts and then a low heart. West produces the jack to force out dummy's king. East gets in with the ace of diamonds in time to take the setting trick with the queen of hearts.

East might sit back and wait for his tricks if dummy had only three or four diamonds. With a strong five-card suit in the dummy East must get his tricks before they disappear.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner opens with one spade, and the next player passes. You hold: S-Q 10 9 5 H-K 10 9 D-K Q J 9 3 C-K. What do you say?

Answer: Bid two diamonds. You intend to jump to four spades next, showing your distribution as well as your strength. If partner has a good spade suit and three or four aces he may try for slam—and you will accept the invitation.

CENTENNIAL SCRAPBOOK

The War for the Union 1861-65 in Pictures

No. 363

There was no let-up in human pursuit of pleasure and excitement away from the war fronts in 1863. Theaters, racetracks and other diversions were crowd-getters. Gambling in a variety of forms was rampant, while the government war loan bonds sagged.

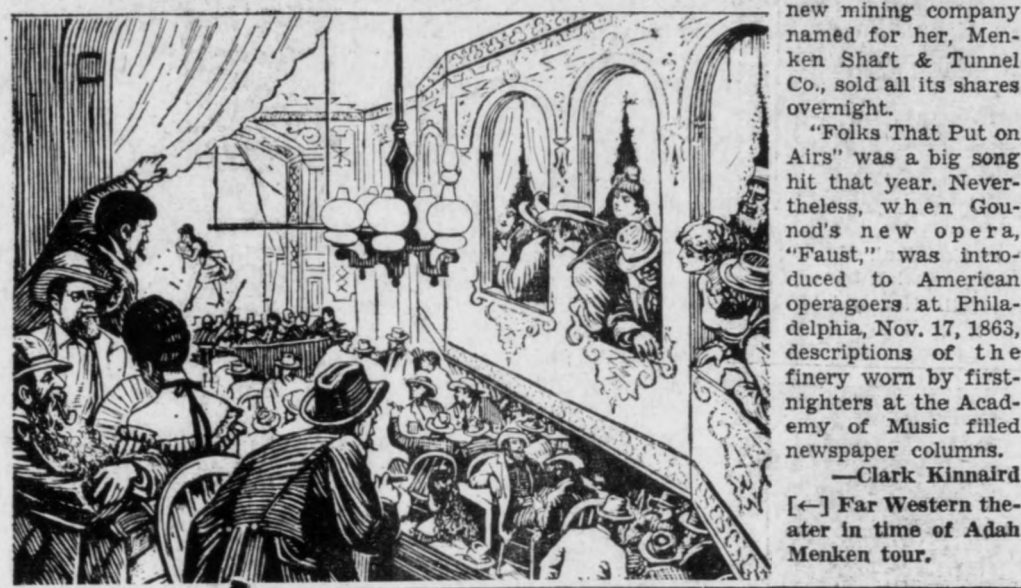

There was no "hit" play on a war theme. The biggest attraction was a stage version of "East Lynne," a two-year-old bestseller novel by an Englishwoman, Mrs. Henry Wood. The story of an erring married woman who was turned out by her husband,

"supplied the theater with probably the first example of 'the woman pays' theme, and provided the stage with one of the most popular melodramas ever written," says the No. 1 chronological reference volume on theatrical history, "Variety Music Cavalcade," edited by Julius Mattfield (pub. by Prentice-Hall).

Adah Isaac Menken made a triumphal tour of Western states exhibiting some talent and much of her figure in the role of Mazeppa, which had made her a sensational attraction in the East (see No. 187 in this series). She aroused such excitement in Nevada that a new mining company named for her, Menken Shaft & Tunnel Co., sold all its shares overnight.

"Folks That Put on Airs" was a big song hit that year. Nevertheless, when Gounod's new opera, "Faust," was introduced to American opera-goers at Philadelphia, Nov. 17, 1863, descriptions of the finery worn by first-nighters at the Academy of Music filled newspaper columns.

INDIANAPOLIS UPI — The Indianapolis ice hockey Capitals, who lost their home in the explosion at the State Fairgrounds Coliseum last week, moved to Cincinnati today for the remainder of the season.

The Caps are members of the Central Professional League, which includes St. Louis, St. Paul, Minneapolis and Omaha.

Cincinnati formerly had a team in the International Hockey League.

Rocky Expected To Announce

ALBANY, N. Y., UPI—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller is expected to announce his decision to run for the GOP presidential nomination some time this week, possibly Thursday when he will hold a news conference.

It was reported, however, that early next week has been set aside on the governor's schedule should unforeseen developments postpone his anticipated disclosure.

Informed sources in Washington and at the state Capitol said Rockefeller would declare his candidacy Thursday.

It was reported in the nation's capital that the governor's staff had prepared a mass mailing of campaign literature for distribution in New Hampshire Thursday.

The first presidential primary in the nation will take place in March in New Hampshire. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, currently the frontrunner for the GOP presidential nomination, also is expected to enter the New Hampshire primary.

HOLLYWOOD UPI — Members of Scottish clans in the Los Angeles area are getting a chance for movie appearances. They'll be used in scenes of the "My Fair Lady."

Long Debate On Foreign Aid Seen

WASHINGTON UPI — Senate Democratic leaders today predicted a drawn out debate on the foreign aid bill, but indicated they hoped to block deep cuts in the appropriations. The Senate bill authorizes $4.2 billion for one more year of economic, military and technical aid to friendly nations.

The House has passed a $3.5 billion authorization—$1 billion less than the pending Senate version.

But Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., predicted the final bill would be a "decent" authorization.

However, Mansfield told newsmen after a legislative meeting with President Kennedy, that the debate over the bill would be "a fairly long siege."

Other congressional news: The Senate Foreign Relations Committee was told today that 12 South Viet Nam generals offered President Ngo Dinh Diem a chance to step down before they ordered the coup. Secretary of State Rusk said Diem was guaranteed safe conduct if he would give up without a fight. Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the committee, said Rusk told the group that when Diem refused he was apprehended and shot. Rusk said Diem's brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, was killed with him.

the meeting senior parents were asked to stay and discuss plans for the canteen that they will be having after every home basketball game. Schedules were prepared for those who are to work at the various games.

Several students have been busy working on the Bainbridge school newspaper, which was distributed Friday, November 1. Subscriptions for the school paper were sold for $.50. Those who work diligently on the staff are:

BAINBRIDGE SCHOOL NEWS

The children in Bainbridge grade school were arrayed in different costumes for Halloween on October 31. They paraded through the entire high school classes and displayed their costumes. Each class had parties and selected four winners from the costumes.

The entire school was shocked to hear of the death of Jim Shoaf. Everyone was very greatly moved and wish to express their deepest sympathy to the family.

On Wednesday, October 30 a film, It's Worth Waiting For, presented by the girls and Mrs. Steward, was shown to and enjoyed by all high school girls. The film was concerned with discouraging early marriages.

The PTA met at Bainbridge High School, Monday, October 28. Susie Clark and Carl Ferrand gave speeches on Girl's and Boy's State. Luck, Planning Factors In Coup

SAIGON, South Viet Nam UPI — Precision military planning, old-fashioned intrigue, and plain luck were the reasons Friday's coup against President Ngo Dinh Diem succeeded.

Highly placed sources here today revealed the anatomy of the coup that brought down Diem, one of Asia's strongest rulers, within four months after the plot began.

There were five central figures. Today, two of them, Diem and his adviser brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, are dead.

The other three are the military rulers of the nation—Lt. Gen. Duong Van Minh, a popular combat veteran; Maj. Gen. Tran Van Don, former chief of staff; and Maj. Gen. Ton That Dinh.

Ikeda Ignores Death Attempt

KORIYAMA, Japan UPI — Prime Minister Hayato Ikeda ignored a possible assassination attempt and continued to campaign for the Liberal Democratic party in parliamentary elections

Nov. 21.

Today's incident occurred when Ikeda, who is stumping the countryside, left a platform after delivering a speech here.

Takao Ishimoto, 24, approached him, ostensibly to present a petition. But police said a dagger dropped from the youth's clothing when police stopped him short of the platform.

There was no overt attack on Ikeda, but police charged Ishimoto with attempted murder and illegal possession of arms.
